Student Assistant

(m/w/d)

Our team is looking for you.

The Omega lab at the MPI for Human Cognitive and Brain Sciences (Department of Neurology) is looking for a highly motivated master's student for approximately 3 months to assist with conducting a systematic review and meta-analysis on executive functions in adolescents with obesity. This project can possibly form the basis of a master's thesis. Tasks include screening the literature against eligibility criteria and data extraction.

Who can join us?

- Master's students of psychology or a related discipline with a strong interest in cognitive neuroscience research

- Intrinsically motivated students, who are driven and have initiative
- Excellent interpersonal skills and the ability to work in a team
- Very good knowledge of English, both written and spoken

Start: From February/March 2024, the exact starting date can be agreed upon.

How can you join us?

If you are interested, please send us your application with a letter of motivation and a CV, both in English and in PDF format to Andrea Asgeirsdottir:
